89. (New) The device as set forth in claim 1, wherein said device further comprises: functionality to communicate information via a short-message-service (SMS) signal regarding said remote purchase transaction, and wherein said device wirelessly receives voice prompts for use in selecting said second point of sale terminal, and wherein said device receives an input indicating a selection of said second point of sale terminal, and wherein said device receives a first confirmation signal from said first point of sale terminal when said remote purchase transaction is complete and, in response to said receipt of said first confirmation signal, said device audibly outputs a tone and visually displays an indication confirming completion of said remote purchase transaction and wherein said device receives a second confirmation signal from said second point of sale terminal when said local purchase transaction is complete and, in response to said receipt of said second confirmation signal, said device provides an audible output and a visual display that provides an indication confirming completion of said local purchase transaction, and wherein said device receives a third confirmation signal from said third point of sale terminal when said local buying transaction is complete and, in response to said receipt of said third confirmation signal, said device audibly outputs a sound and provides a visual presentation confirming completion of said local buying transaction.
90. (New) The device as set forth in claim 1, wherein said third point of sale terminal comprises a fast-food drive through terminal such that said local buying transaction occurs only when said device is in the presence of said field generated by said fast-food drive through terminal.
